At a glance

- Growing support for multiparty politics since 2000
- Growing trust in opposition political parties
- Perceived differences between opposition and the ruling party revolves around personality, experience and integrity of party leaders as well as the economic/development policies

What is Afrobarometer?

- An African-led, non-partisan survey research project that measures citizen attitudes on democracy and governance, the economy, civil society, and other topics.
- Started in 12 countries in 1999, expanded to 35 African countries in Round 5 (2011-2013).
- Goal: To give the public a voice in policy-making by providing high-quality public opinion data to policy makers, policy advocates, civil society organizations, academics, news media, donors and investors, and ordinary Africans.
- National Partners in each country conduct the survey. In Uganda, Afrobarometer Round 6 survey was conducted by Hatchile Consult Ltd.

Where Afrobarometer works

Methodology

- Nationally representative sample of adult citizens
  - ❑ All respondents are randomly selected.
  - ❑ Sample is distributed across 5 regions (Kampala, Central, West, North, and East) and urban/rural areas in proportion to their share in the national population.
  - ❑ Every adult citizen has an equal chance of being selected.
- Face-to-face interviews in the language of the respondent's choice.
- Standard questionnaire allows comparisons across countries and over time.
- Sample size in Uganda of 2,400 adult citizens yields results with a margin of error of +/-2% at a 95% confidence level.
- Fieldwork for Round 6 in Uganda was conducted May 8-26, 2015.
